

Gerhard Stahl

China: Dangerous rival or cooperation partner?

How can EU–China relations develop in a changing world with geopolitical conflicts?

166 pages
 paperback
 12.00 Euro
 ISBN 978-3-8012-3109-5

In today's world, China has become an important player vis-à-vis the European Union. This publication provides knowledge and considerate recommendations that constitute a valuable contribution to the development of a European strategy for China. It is an invitation to study China's economic and political development based on facts, and different opinions of people in business, politics and academia. It looks into history, economic competition, and the reasons and consequences of geopolitical confrontation. With his methodical approach and his experiences as a visiting professor in China for the past ten years, Gerhard Stahl presents the current assets and challenges of this empire. What about the EU, the main trade and economic partner of China? Are we partners or rivals, or both? This book is not only not only a theoretical analysis, it is a convincing plea for international cooperation to solve global problems like climate change and underdevelopment.

Gerhard Stahl

is a visiting professor at the Peking University HSBC Business School in Shenzhen, China. He started his professional career at the German Ministry of Finance. He was Secretary General of the European Committee of the Regions for over ten years. Furthermore, he worked in leading positions at the European Parliament and the European Commission. For a decade, he was a member of the administrative board of the ifo Institute, one of the leading economic research institutes in Europe. He also taught in the Economics Department at the College of Europe. He is the author of many publications on economic and international policy issues.

Verlag J. H. W. Dietz Nachf.

Dreizehnmorgenweg 24
 D-53175 Bonn
 fax +49 (0) 228/18 48 77-29
 www.dietz-verlag.de

Public Relations
 Mareike Malzbender
 phone +49 (0) 228/18 48 77-26
 mareike.malzbender@dietz-verlag.de

Events
 Barbara Oh
 phone +49 (0) 228/18 48 77-24
 barbara.oh@dietz-verlag.de